

Oceanscan Limited's Statement on Coronavirus (COVID-19)

Dear Customers, Staff, Suppliers and Partners,

For more than 30 years Oceanscan Limited has followed a core value, established by our founder and current owner which is to ensure we take care of our entire supply chain including our staff, customers, suppliers and partners.

As the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic combined with the decline of the crude oil price will no doubt impact all of our daily business operations, the Oceanscan Group has established a new business contingency plan. Our first aim is to reduce the virus risk to our employees, customers, suppliers and partners whilst at our premises or elsewhere. This is to ensure the continuation of our business and how we can best support you in these uncertain times. We are closely following government and public health advice regarding COVID-19 and have taken a series of actions in line with these.

We have made necessary adjustments so we can continue to support companies in the energy sector categorised as Critical National Infrastructure (CNI). We want to keep supplying you with equipment, personnel, calibrations and geophysical services. Nearly all our teams are now working from home in a secure and safe environment whilst we ensure we follow and instruct all staff on the latest COVID-19 measures.

We will continue to support customers' rental operations from Aberdeen and Houston as well as any personnel requirements via our team in Lowestoft. Calibrations will be carried out in Aberdeen and at our Sercal base in Cannock with sales of consumables and equipment being offered from our premises in Aberdeen and Houston. Our geophysical services are supplied by Geoforce in Beccles, UK.

Our amended procedures in relation to deliveries, collections and visitors are as follows:

- Deliveries to our company sites in Aberdeen, Cannock and Beccles (UK) and in Houston (USA) will be possible with restrictions for guidelines on interaction and adhering to safe distance keeping.
- All visitors must be pre-booked to enter or deliver to our premises. All meetings with customers, suppliers and staff working from home are now virtual by using the Zoom platform.
- Notifications on our website www.oceanscan.co.uk and at our premises notify staff and visitors to follow the latest government and health authorities' guidelines on the COVID-19 risks.
- The above points may be amended in line with the prevailing government guidelines.

We are in close contact with our customers, suppliers and partners and nearly all premises remain open to handle goods in and out by essential staff at all locations below:
